MEMBER CODE OF CONDUCT

The following is a guide to members explaining the club's expectations of member behaviour while on club premises or representing the club at other locations. Members should be aware that inappropriate conduct may involve the club and themselves in cost and time-consuming litigation, prejudice the club's right to sell alcoholic beverages or result in other members or valued employees leaving the club.

1. Members act in accordance with the Rules of Golf, the club's Constitution and By-Laws, local rules and standing orders.
2. Members treat other members, club staff, the club Professional, club visitors, contractors and Board members with courtesy and respect.
3. Members do not use language which might be construed as discriminatory, sexist or racist.
4. Only Board members may represent to third parties, including the Town of Cottesloe and the Press, the club's policies and procedures.
5. Members and their guests do not engage in illegal activity while on club premises.
6. Members and their guests do not bring alcohol or food onto club premises without the prior consent of club management.
7. Members comply promptly and without complaint with the reasonable instructions of the bar staff.
8. Members respect the decisions made by their appointed representatives, the Board of directors, on behalf of the club.
9. Members supporting the club in a volunteer capacity do so without the expectation of financial reward.
10. Where applicable these rules apply equally to members, guest and visitors.
